workstories...

This is where your story begins...

OUR STORY OF

Workstories was born to create spaces that work, for wherever your story is taking you.

Environments designed for where you need to go and what you need to do — as well as how you want it to feel as you get there.

We are home to a range of deeply individual brands, each of whom we have chosen to support different elements of what you do.

Chosen by people who love design and what it can facilitate, who love the new and the next but have no time for fads and fancies.

So whether it's ergonomic and highly efficient seating, British-made steel and hardwood desking, or mid-century clean lines and Westcoast patinated leather.

Whether it's heads down, hard knocks and make-or-breaks, or open discussions, new ideas and new beginnings.

Great stories rarely end in the same place they start — so wherever your business goes next, wherever your story is headed, let's get where you're going...

Workstories curates beautiful, affordable and quality commercial furniture from a global community. We love great design but we love what it can facilitate more. We're a team of passionate people dedicated to helping you create with your customers a unique space to shape their own stories...

“*We create spaces that work,
for wherever your story is taking you.*”
